

New Books from RFI

Reformed Fellowship, Inc. is pleased to announce the release of two new books.

Sacred Bond: Covenant Theology Explored by Michael Brown and Zach Keele is an introduction to covenant theology geared to the lay reader.

"People often ask me for a basic or introductory book on covenant theology. Now we've got one—Sacred Bond. Brown and Keele explain covenant theology in basic and readable terms. Better yet, they do so without succumbing to the tendency to talk down to the reader or make the complicated too simplistic—a common problem with introductory texts. This book does many things well, but perhaps the most important thing it does is that it will help people to better understand their Bibles. That, it seems to me, is what makes this book so valuable. And that is why you should buy it, read it, and digest it. To understand covenant theology is to understand the Bible."

Dr. Kim Riddlebarger, pastor of Christ Reformed Church (URCNA) in Anaheim, CA, and author of A Case for Amillennialism: Understanding the End Times

"Read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest this wonderful guide. In doing so, you will be much better equipped to know what you believe and why you believe it."

From the foreword by Dr. Michael S. Horton, Professor of Theology

and Apologetics at Westminster Seminary California

Regular price $12.00; Synod Special 50% off—$6.00 (limited qty)

Little One Lost: Living with Early Infant Loss by Glenda Mathes

The grief of miscarriage, stillbirth, and newborn loss is often misunderstood and frequently ignored. In Little One Lost: Living with Early Infant Loss, Glenda Mathes writes of her own experience and shows from Scripture that these littlest ones are not really lost. Several couples share personal stories about a variety of losses, including the pain of infertility. Additional sections deal with acknowledging loss, finding comfort, grieving with hope, and healing pain. Steeped in biblical wisdom, this book will resonate with mourning parents and assist anyone who longs to comfort those who grieve a little one lost.

Glenda Mathes is an author, editor, and poet who regularly writes for Christian Renewal magazine. She lives in Iowa with her husband David. Their greatest joy is witnessing their children and grandchildren walking in the truth.

Regular price $10.00; Synod Special 50% off—$5.00 (limited qty, arrives Thursday)

Glenda Mathes